Why Safe Staffing of Registered Nurses Matters!

Presenters: Sara Buckley, RN, Legislative Director, Communications Workers of America Local 1168; Jennifer Tuttle, Legislative Director, Communications Workers of America District 1; and Ann Converso, RN Organizer, Communications Workers of America

Hear registered nurses (RNs) tell real stories about how short staffing has impacted their patients. Learn about health care risks that are rarely talked about – how and why the number of registered nurses at hospital bedsides is insufficient for quality care. Our speakers will discuss the importance of safe staffing to patient outcomes, the research that supports safe staffing ratios, and legislation currently before the New York State Legislature.

Presidents’ Report

It is always special to socialize with League members. Conversation never lags and folks have interesting and insightful comments to share. This year’s holiday party was a fine example of the good will and generosity of our League members. We enjoyed the comments about Vive Inc. and Jericho Road Community Health Center by Sister Beth Niederpruem, the social worker at Vive, and Anita Lakareber, a refugee from Uganda. They were both eloquent in sharing Vive's mission and their insights into the refugee experience.

We had a laundry basket for warm wear donations from those of us who attended. The most generous League members probably donated at least three times the number of items that filled the basket and made many comments about how much they enjoyed the afternoon. Please let us know of other organizations that we can feature at future holiday parties. We send many thanks to the folks who attended for your enthusiastic and generous donations to the refugees at Vive.

League Nominating Committee: Chair Judy Weidemann and elected members of the 2016 Nominating Committee have begun work to select a slate of candidates for the 2016-2018 board of directors. Please consider service to the League as a board member if you are contacted by Judy or any of these fine committee members: Judy Clarke, Mary Herbst, Ramona Gallagher, Kathleen McCarthy, Joan Mondul and Lori Robinson.

Reminder: The League’s main phone number has changed to (716) 986-4898. It will be easier to reach Mary Ann Turkla at this cell phone number. By the time you receive this Voter the new hours at the office will be on Tuesdays from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Mary Ann will work from home on Wednesdays and Fridays, but will go to the office on Wednesdays or Fridays in an emergency. Mary Ann requests that you communicate with her via email so she can keep track of requests for meeting rooms, materials and other needs.

Honoring community leaders with the League’s Making Democracy Work Award: This edition of the Voter includes a nomination form for the 2016 Making Democracy Work Award. Please consider nominating a community member who you feel has made memorable efforts to make democracy work. Recent honorees include Attorney Michael Kuzma, Erin Heaney, Bill Nowak, Sam Magavern, and Bonnie Smith from the Westminster Economic Development Initiative Inc. (WEDI). We welcome your nomination for the 2016 award by February 16, 2016. The nomination form has the details.
LWV New York Voter Services: In her report in the December State Voter, Chair Judy Gorenstein wrote: The bad news this fall is what we all know. New York ranks 49th in low voter turnout! What as the League can we do?

It was clear from the surveys, as well as the teleconferences held this fall, that local Leagues are constantly striving to run successful candidates nights and voter registration drives, but are also frustrated by the low turnout. The state League hears you. By February 2016, we will be setting up a Google group to have an online conversation where we can learn from one another and share ideas, concerns, problems and resolutions. (In January we will let you know how to be part of this conversation.) This spring we will hold voter service workshops but even before then we will be providing templates not only of recommended policy guidelines, but also of letters to the candidates, and press releases and templates for public service announcements (PSAs).

Our League members seek to have a well-defined and organized effort to get out the vote in 2016. We need you to join us in planning and carrying out this most important effort. This news from the state is most welcome. Please contact us at lwvbn@lwvbn.org or call the League at 986-4898 to become part of our efforts. Your suggestions and relationships with other organizations – social, religious, civic, etc. – will all be important as we seek to reach as many citizens in Western New York as possible with the message to be informed and educated voters and cast ballots in 2016.

Awards Committee

Honoring local League leaders

It’s time again to think about honoring local League leaders. Janet Goodsell has agreed to chair the Awards Committee to nominate recipients for our two local League awards that will be submitted for board approval.

The Joan K. Bozer Leadership Award recognizes outstanding League leadership that reflects on some of the many qualities that Joan has demonstrated in her long experience as a League and community leader.

We selected five key characteristics exhibited by Joan that we feel are essential qualities for recognition: ethical, innovative, resourceful, respected and steadfast. Please submit a paragraph of up to 250 words that describes how your nominee embodies these characteristics. Be sure to include each characteristic as you write about your nominee.

The League of Women Voters of Buffalo/Niagara LEE Award is presented to a League member who has made a Long-term commitment to the League with Energy and Excellence – hence the initials LEE.

The award honors Lenore Tetkowski, Leonore Lambert and Lenore Banks. Please submit a paragraph of up to 250 words about your nominee in which you note the approximate number of years the person served the League actively and give examples of her/his Energy and Excellence in League activity.

Please email completed nominations to events@lwvbn.org by February 15, 2016. Be sure your name is noted as the nominator.

Participate in LWVUS program planning for 2016-2018
Leagues have an opportunity to offer input for the LWVUS program for the 2016-2018 biennium. This important League process will culminate with the adoption of a program of education and action at the LWVUS Convention scheduled for Washington, D.C., in June 2016. Program planning materials are posted in the Convention section of the League Management website. For additional information or questions contact Program Outreach Committee Chair Barbara Zia at prooplan@lwv.org. The Issues Committee and board will discuss this in February and respond to LWVUS requests.

Opportunity to attend U.N. Commission on the Status of Women session

From the State Voter

Living Wage Committee
The Living Wage Committee was charged by the LWVNYS Convention in 2015 to determine what is an appropriate living wage for our state and its localities.

LWVUS has said that Leagues may take action on a living wage under the national position on Meeting Basic Human Needs that includes the statement, "People who are unable to work, whose earnings are inadequate or for whom jobs are not available have the right to an income and/or services sufficient to meet their basic needs for food, shelter and access to health care." The position further states that, "one of the goals of social policy should be to promote self-sufficiency for individuals and families." Guidance from LWVUS requires that state and local Leagues do the research necessary to determine what an appropriate wage would be for their own community.

The committee further defined a living wage using the LWV Buffalo/Niagara concurrence with the LWV Kansas position: A living wage should provide sufficient income, without government assistance, for food, clothing, housing, energy, transportation, health care, education, child care, and a small amount of discretionary income. With this analysis, the state League can now support the proposed $15 minimum wage.

Energy, Environment and Agriculture Committee: Addressing the ripple effects of food waste on the climate
In 2013, according to the Environmental Protection Agency, 21.1 percent of America's 167 million tons of municipal waste consisted of food. This organic waste decomposes in landfills, emitting methane gas that has a global warming potential more than 25 times greater than carbon dioxide. That's a whopping 35.2 million tons of food that could have been used to feed people and livestock or composted to grow a new cycle of food, if handled differently. All that food waste contains significant resources that are also wasted, such as water, fertilizer, paper products, fossil fuel for growing, transportation and storage, and human labor. This food waste/climate change link is so critical that the country now has a national policy to address it. On September 16, 2015, EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy and U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced the United States' first-ever national food waste reduction goal of 50 percent by 2030. Coming in the week before the United Nations General Assembly met to discuss sustainable development practices, this announcement signaled the urgent need to shift how our nation produces, sells, uses and discards its food.

On December 7, 2015, United States Congresswoman Chellie Pingree (D-ME) introduced the Food Recovery Act, a comprehensive bill that seeks to address food waste from farm to table. (See http://thinkprogress.org/climate/2015/12/14/3731628/food-waste-bill/) Although the New York State League cannot take action without coordinating with National, the goals in this bill are worthy of consideration for action to reduce food waste in New York.

Closer to home, Beth Radow met on December 15, 2015, with Assemblyman Steve Otis, who sits on the New York State Assembly's Environmental Conservation Committee. Mr. Otis has been appointed to lead the Legislative Commission on Solid Waste and the Assembly's 10-member Climate Change Task Force. Mr. Otis and Ms. Radow discussed climate change, the role of food waste management and related topics. The conversation will be ongoing. League members with local or proposed statewide solutions to reduce food waste (whether lending themselves to legislation or otherwise) are encouraged to send them to Beth Radow by email at enradow@gmail.com.
